

A tsunami striking this part of the Oregon coast is expected to dangerously flood parts of Cannon Beach shown gray on the map below.

Any time you're in the gray tsunami hazard area and feel the ground shake, or you hear the community warning system sound its powerful sirens, walk immediately to any area not shown gray on this map. Do not try to drive. Traffic jams will trap many drivers and their passengers in deadly flood zones - leaving little or no time to get to safety.
